

I do not think the telephone consumer protection act should be changed to accomodate the complaints of those who abused calling the public in the first place. Maybe if we continue to stand strong in NJ, other states and the Federal government will get the idea that the consumer should come first and we should have a choice. DO NOT change the current law and stand for the public you serve.